Increased Demand And Steady Prices Mark Week's Sales

The lull preceding the holidays has about disappeared with a stronger demand and steadier price marking the offerings of winter vegetables from the Glades.

Potatoes and cabbage are generally readying for market and leafy crops are of ample supply.

Making paths thru the snow to get to the corner grocery is not enticing to those who live in the northern section of the country, and Glades vegetables have suffered.

The rail car movement, plus the trucks bring the weekly sales to near 500, with the 100-125 daily movement seemingly not far away.

Carloadings — Week Ending December 28, 1956.

Senator Holland Closes Fla. Office

Senator Spessard Holland closed his Fall Congressional office in Bartow Saturday (December 15) completing three months of extensive visiting and speaking throughout Florida. During the period from September 15 to December 15, the Senator traveled over 11,000 miles within the state by auto, train and plane, and spoke more than 100 times before Florida audiences. His travels took him into almost every county in the State and he spoke in 35 of the 67 counties.

Asked about the next session of Congress, Holland said that in his opinion Democratic control of Congress was a healthy situation for the nation as the last session of Congress under Democratic control was a constructive one and he felt that the incoming 85th Congress would also be a constructive one. "It is going to be interesting to see what happens," he said, in pointing out that three of the new members to be elected are now seeking to capture leadership of the Democratic Party in Congress. One is the so-called "Congress Leadership" group headed by Senator Lyndon Johnson and Representative Sam Rayburn, both of Texas. Then there is the advisory group named by the Democratic National Committee and the third is the group headed by Northern and Western liberals, such as Senators Humphrey, Douglas and Morse.

Holland is spending the Christmas holidays at his home in Bartow with his family and plans to return to Washington prior to the convening of the 85th Congress on January 3, 1957.

Refreshments of hot dogs, potato chips, candy, ice cream, sherbet, bubble gum and cold drinks were served. ## $750,000 Vacuum Precooling Plant Begins Operation Early In Year

VACUUM PRECOOLING of six and a half cars, per hour is the capacity of the three-quarter-million dollar installation just completed on the outskirts of Belle Glade and scheduled to begin operations the first week in the New Year by the Florida Vacuum Precooling Corporation.

All leafy vegetables, beans and corn are expected to furnish the major portion of the commodities to be processed at this plant.

With a building 80 x 400 feet, clear span, for assembling, processing and loading on the conveyor system, there is a total of close to 45,000 square feet of concrete floor and platform.

The system for handling vegetables anticipate a three-minute unloading time utilizing lift trucks and pallets. The pallets are placed on dollies, which are in turn moved into the cooling tubes and from there to the double-decked conveyor system.

Loading platform for 22 cars and 12 trucks enable the capacity of the cooling equipment to be handled on to cars and trucks with a minimum of effort and time.

Mr. G. E. (Mike) Turner, Vice President and General Manager expects the end of the season to find his plant running at capacity with a total of some twenty-odd employees.

"Grass Roots Opinion"

OESSA, WASH., RECORD: "The man who lived through the depression . . . had seen conditions that were really rough. His greatest lesson is the one that gives him comfort now. He studiously avoids going into debt, has developed a part of his annual gain into savings designed to carry him through any bad years. . . . When we have provided this protection, we are independent of governmental whims and fancies."

BASSETT, NEB., LEADER: "It is the consumer who will pay for the increased wage and fringe benefits the steel workers may gain. There is nothing remarkable about this, for obviously if a business does not recover its costs, and a reasonable profit for re-investment and for dividends to those who have provided the facilities, it cannot hope to remain a going concern for very long."

FOREST, MISS., TIMES: "Like other business, we sometimes receive in the mail a circular describing some kind of insurance policy which would mean a 'big saving' in protecting property against fire or theft. Such circulars are tossed immediately into the wastebasket. . . . Cheap insurance is apt to be more expensive in the long run."

GREENSBORO, N. C., DEMOCRAT: ". . . the hot dog is simple and down-to-earth and economical. It's within the reach and pocketbook of everybody, and it has the taste of America. Let's toast the American Way, the hot dog way. It's a national tradition to be proud of. So pass the mustard. Hot dogs!"

Grace Kell's Country Just A Small Size Farm!

The Principality of Monaco contains 368 acres, or a little more than a half section of land. A half section of land could be one mile long and half mile wide.

Central Park, in the heart of New York City, contains 840 acres of land. This is twice as large as Monaco with 104 acres to boot.

Myakka River State Park, in Sarasota and Manatee Counties, contains 26,898 acres; therefore, 73 Monacos or 32 Central Parks could figuratively be placed within the extensive area of Myakka.

Myakka River State Park serves the people of Florida, of the South and of the Nation well. It is a quiet world of river, lakes, woods and open sunlit land, myriads of water birds and flocks of land birds, of deer and raccoon. Here, one may rest, ride, picnic, fish, boat or camp and absorb the pleasure of wide spaces with a minimum of noise, strife and regulated living.

All that is asked of visitors is to observe simple "State Park Good Manners," as ported in the Park.

Experience is what you get when you're looking for something else.

Belle Glade's First Ice Plant

THE FIRST ICE PLANT IN BELLE GLADE was installed by Capt. Benjamin and was transported lock stock and smokestack from St. Cloud by boat. It was located across the street from where Ex-Mayor Kirchman's house now stands on corner of 5th St. and West Palm Beach Rd. Ice was delivered in Capt. Benjamin's 35-ft. cruiser, "Lil". The history of the plant is told by a pioneer resident.

Captain Benjamin's Ice Plant

LAWRENCE E. WILL
Forgotten now is Captain Benjamin. Such small claim to fame which he might have had was due to his somewhat premature dream of progress. Captain Benjamin installed the first ice plant in Belle Glade. In fact it was only the third in the Everglades. Moore Haven and Okeechobee boasted large plants for icing catfish, then the lake's principal industry.

Belle Glade in those days, and Chosen, too, back in 1922, were only scattered clearings in the cutstard apple swamp. Of roads there were none. Nevertheless, there were a few women, and these women wished for ice. Possibly you may have tried, without a refrigerator to cook for a family. With the laudable intention of alleviating this situation and incidentally making a few bucks, Captain Benjamin conceived the idea of installing an ice plant.

Just why he was known as "Captain" Benjamin nobody seems to remember. To be sure, he had a boat, a thirty foot cabin cruiser named "Lil". But unless a man owned a fleet of sternwheelers or at least a mail boat, he seldom rated such a title. At any rate "Captain" he was, a dour old bachelor, who lived aboard the "Lil", and when not making an occasional trip with a load of beans or potatoes or an infrequent passenger, he could be found moored to the canal bank in Belle Glade.

In St. Cloud he discovered just what he wanted, and negotiated with the owners, two brothers, to sell it at a bargain price, and barge it, lock, stock and smokestack down the Kissimmee, across the lake and down the Hillsboro Canal.

Now, Benjamin had no land, but he prevailed on Joe Seymour, a public spirited citizen, to allow it to be erected on his tract. Here it was duly set up in a small clearing near the canal, now 6th Street and West Palm Beach Road. Here Benjamin put down a few pilings to support the brick furnace which fed the return tubular boiler. A tin roof sheltered the ammonia compressor, tubes and ice cans. Water was piped from the canal to an elevated storage tank. It was quite an impressive sight out there in the woods.

The plant was capable of producing 5 tons of ice in 24 hours, at least that is what the brothers claimed. Captain Benjamin at first attempted to fire with wood. Cutstard apple wood he had in abundance, but somehow it could not produce the necessary heat. Ice froze in a thin shell inside the cans, but that was all. It seemed that the venture would have to be abandoned for Benjamin's meager capital had now been exhausted. To the rescue came William H. Badger, the postmaster. With new resources, the boiler was equipped with oil burners. But other mechanical difficulties arose. At this critical juncture, Mr. Badger's son, Warren, just released from the navy, and fortunately conversant with boilers, compressors and refrigerators, took over the operation. Now the plant turned out beautiful 100 pound cakes. What matter if they were of slightly saffron shade and with a generous ho hole down the middle. They were ice, real ice!

Having lined up prospective customers along the canal and the lake shore as far as Bare Beach to the west and Pahokee on the north, Captain Benjamin handled the delivery in his trusty boat "Lil". Now, daily delivery, due to the unreliability of the machinery, as well as to idiosyncrasies of the proprietor, was no mighty easy, unusual.

"Lil" they deeks could hold but few blocks, so on the lake trips, most of the ice, perforce, was shoved below the cabin, no easy job with the engine nearly blocking the only doorway. Upon arriving at a customer's landing (there were few docks), the doughty captain, with swelling lungs, would blow one long and mournful delivered F.O.B., that is to say Plung Over Board!

A couple of months and the business quietly folded. Again the farm wives had no ice. The plant alone remained, serving no useful purpose except as a refuge for some negroes during the hurricane of 1928, until eventually it was hauled away by the junk men. Still remaining, however, is the concrete foundation for the old brick furnace. It may still be seen in the pasture across the street from ex-mayor "Stick" Kirchman's home, but is of interest to no one now save a few contented cows.

"Thank God For America—Our New Home!"
This thankful Hungarian family of fourteen offered a prayer of thanksgiving as they sat down "together" for their first dinner in their new home in Chicago. One of the largest family groups to immigrate to the United States under provisions of the Refugee Relief Act of 1953, the father's name represented the 30,000 persons who came to this country under auspices of Catholic Relief Services—New York City Welfare Conference. It brought the overall total of homeless refugees resettled by the agency is free countries throughout the world since 1945 to 200,000, marking the greatest ever voluntary agency.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Bela Roman with twelve of their eleven children ranging in age from 3 years to 28. Three daughters remained in France two of these sons and one married. With the assistance of the Hungarian Catholic League a home and job assurance have been provided for the family.

Roman, who is 58, and his 48-year-old wife, Elizabeth, fled with their eleven children to Germany from their native Hungary in 1944, when Russian troops entered the country. Their flight was prompted by the father's fear of communist reprisals. As a young man in the Hungarian Royal army in which he served 28 years, he had taken an active part in the 1919 uprising against the communist regime of Bela Kun. Their immediate residence finally took them to Vosges, France, from which place they immigrated.

Here they will begin a new life eagerly awaiting the day they can become American citizens. Mrs. Roman stated, "It was only the grace of God that let us see our family through these years."

CHURCHES OF CHRIST.

The ever-growing power of the Christ, Truth, will be set forth in Christian Science service Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon to be read entitled "Christian Science" is the following from Isaiah (52:10): "The Lord hath made his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations; and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of God."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (35:11-21): "Truth's immortal power is in the eye of the centuries, gathering benighted ways the sick and sinning. My weary hope tries to realize that happy day, when man shall recognize the Science of Christ and love his neighbor as himself."

When he shall realize God's omnipotence and the healing power of the divine Love in what it has done and is doing for mankind."

The planning of the year's work was completed by the members of the church, gathering benighted ways the sick and sinning. My weary hope tries to realize that happy day, when man shall recognize the Science of Christ and love his neighbor as himself."

When he shall realize God's omnipotence and the healing power of the divine Love in what it has done and is doing for mankind."

Holy Bible Is Rated "Journalistic Gem"

The Holy Bible ranks high as a work of journalism. Rae Weimer, director of the University of Florida's School of Journalism and Communications, speaking at a recent religious news workshop on the Bible, described the Bible as the world's finest journalistic effort and nominated three public writers for all-time Pulitzer Prizes.

Describing the Old and New Testaments as works composed "by greater reporters than we are," Weimer said the Bible is a masterpiece of the best reporting of the past.

"The greatest journalist," Weimer said, "is the author of the ten commandments resulted from 'the best editing in journalism'."

So hungry have been the coastal currents along Palm Beach County's coast line, that the erosion of the beach is going to take $2 million and a half to replace the sand and shells that have been washed away.

Mail Order Insurance Not Florida Supervised

To the Citizens of Florida: The State Insurance Department desires to inform all people buying insurance through unlicensed companies as to the hazards involved. The majority of the sales in question are being made through the mails.

Some of the companies are not licensed in this state and are not willing to subject themselves to the laws of our state, nor to the jurisdiction of the Florida Insurance Department, endeavor to sell direct to the public by use of attractive advertising through the U. S. Mails. Your State Insurance Department is powerless to stop mail order solicitation for the reason that such solicitation constitutes interstate commerce over which the State of Florida has no control.

The majority of the companies that operate through the mail rather than through a licensed Florida agent are more concerned with the collection of your premium than with the payment of your claims.

Do not be misled by the attractive sales literature and the testimonials in the printed matter.

As a policyholder in an unlicensed company there is always serious question as to where your money will be held for protection of Florida Courts and probably would be compelled to your premium rather than to the state in which it is licensed.

You would not have the assistance of your State Insurance Department because of its lack of jurisdiction over an unlicensed company.

In any event you would have to depend upon settlement of the claim by the unlicensed company rather than by the licensed Florida Adjuster.

There are now a sufficient number of reputable insurance companies licensed in Florida to take care of all your insurance needs. All your insurance companies are represented by agents who are our own citizens. All legitimate insurance companies use rates that are based on actual experience.

Any mail order company operates at a ridiculously low rate because it does not have the benefit of actual experience.

Celery's Reducing Effectiveness Recommended As Fat Folks Food

Celery is the latest answer to the problem of weight reduction, according to a two year study conducted by the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association.

Mr. Stark, whose firm manufactures prilled ammonium nitrate under the brand name Ammo-Nite, attributed this increased consumption to the realization by Southerners that ammonium nitrate provides more nitrogen than other forms of nitrogen.

Results of the two year study were presented at the annual meeting of the Florida Academy of Science before the Medical Section at Tampa on Friday, November 30, by Dr. Bernstein.

According to Dr. Bernstein, the ideal weight reduction program is one that allows a patient to eat a reasonable free choice of foods and at the same time, feeling full and being satisfied.

Celery was selected for the study because it is abundantly available, a natural product, and a synthetic product, inexpensive, chewy and mouthfilling.

Patients selected for the experiment were examined by consulting physicians and certified by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and blood pressures were recorded at weekly intervals.

Diets were told to eat one average size bunch of celery — four or six ribs one hour before lunch and repeat before dinner.

Dieters were advised to use celery rather than a pre-meal filler.

Participants continued on the celery diet for at least 10 weeks, after all individuals losing weight.

In addition to losing weight, dieters reported feeling better, sensation, improved nerves and better digestion, and a better disposition, all through the study.

Increasing numbers of Southern farmers and growers are using ammonium nitrate fertilizer to supply nitrogen to crops and pastures, according to a survey recently completed by the Florida Chemical, Corp., of Pensacola.

D. J. Stark, vice-president of the Extension Service, reports that United States Department of Agriculture statistics show ammonium nitrate consumption in Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, Florida, Georgia and the Carolinas increased from 280,053 tons in 1953-54 to 357,702 tons in 1954-55.

This represents a gain of 26.3 per cent in use of ammonium nitrate in the South-east during the last year for figures.
